

Initiation time.

Salve!

Continue to apply for Nerdium.

The word "nerd" has been abused and misrepresented for far too long.

At Nerdium, we define "nerd" quite differently than what you'd find in a Google search.

Well, to be frank, we find it hard to define in mere words.

That said, if we first define another word,

Spark /spɑːrk/

[noun]

An activity, topic, or discipline that you pursue because you can't not.

It kindles a spark in you.

It fills your soul.

When you sit with it, the rest of the universe reduces to nothing.

It's just you and your craft.

The rush is ineffable.

it naturally follows that,

Nerd /nə:rd/

[noun]

The One who gladly succumbs to the magic of an insatiable curiosity.

Someone with one or more sparks.

Nerd? *

A Of course, why do you think I indent to apply?

B No, I cannot relate to any; I'm out.

Clanker?

I'm not a robot
